Acknowledgements

I would like to express my deep gratitude to Sr. Mary Frances Traynor, teacher of English at the University of Perugia (Italy), for her care in correcting, improving and sometimes reshaping the English text. Her knowledge and experience in the food chemistry and technology field made her contribution much more valuable than simple language editing. She has been a precious collaborator in detecting mistakes and inconsistencies.

I am also indebted to Valérie Ganio Vecchiolino, a student at the University of Gastronomic Sciences in Pollenzo (Italy), who drew plant and designs with great care, precision and patience.
